SECTION II

ADMINISTRATION

PROPERTY TAXATION IN COLORADO

The Colorado property tax system provides revenue exclusively for local government services. The state does not impose a levy, although by Constitution, it could do so. The largest share of property tax revenue (60.8%) goes to support the state's public schools. County governments claim the next largest share (22.7%), followed by special districts (9.1%) and municipal governments (7.4%).

The authority for property taxation is both constitutional and statutory. Article X of the Colorado Constitution provides that all property is taxable unless declared exempt by the Constitution, and that actual value of taxable property shall be determined under the general laws to secure just and equalized valuations. The specific statutes pertaining to property taxation are found in Title 39, Articles 1 through 13, Colorado Revised Statutes.

Under the general laws of Colorado, county assessors are required to list and value all taxable property within their territorial jurisdictions. The State Board of Equalization has supervision of the administration of all laws concerning the valuation and assessment of taxable property and the levying of property taxes. The Division of Property Taxation, under the leadership of the Property Tax Administrator, coordinates and administers the implementation of property tax law throughout the sixty-three counties.

1987 REAPPRAISAL

In 1987, state law required the county assessors to reappraise all classes of property. The 1987 reappraisal advanced the level of value by eight years, from the 1977 level of value to the 1985 level of value. The total statewide taxable value increased 14.1 billion dollars. This represents a 73 percent increase over 1986 assessments.

Historically, the 1987 reappraisal resulted in the largest percent increase in taxable value since 1913. In that year, the State Board of Equalization ordered a three-fold increase in taxable value to force compliance with a new constitutional amendment. The 1912 amendment (subsequently amended) called for assessments of "full cash value." The increase that year was 209 percent.

The 1987 increase in assessments generally reflects what happened in the Colorado real estate market between the years 1977 and 1985. During that period, inflation had eroded the buying power of the American dollar by 78 percent; almost ten percent per year.[1]

Since real estate is perceived to be a hedge against inflation, demand for Colorado real estate was great and price increases often exceeded the rate of general inflation.

The effects of inflation varied from place to place and property to property. Property assessments in 1987 also increased at varying rates depending on location and property class.

Table 1 contains the changes and the rate of change for each class of property. Table 2 contains the changes and rate of change by specified areas.

Tables 1 and 2 indicate that there were shifts in relative property tax burden resulting from the 1987 reappraisal. Aggregate changes ranged from a 27 percent decrease in oil and gas to a 167 percent increase in vacant land. As part of an effort to head off a tax shift to residential improved property, a 1982 amendment to the Colorado Constitution provides for an adjustment in the residential assessment rate. The General Assembly is required to adjust the rate should the proportion of statewide residential value change due to a reappraisal. In 1987, the General Assembly acted on reappraisal projections and reduced the residential assessment rate from 21 percent to 18 percent of actual value. All other taxable property is valued for assessment at 29 percent of its actual value, except producing mines and oil and gas. In reducing the residential rate, the General Assembly reduced the rate of increase for residential property by approximately 14 percent.

In spite of the General Assembly's efforts, the reappraisal resulted in a greater than average increase in vacant land, residential, and commercial property classes. In school districts consisting primarily of vacant land, residential, and commercial properties, the Department of Education predicted a significant decrease in state equalization aid to schools.

Because of provisions in the State School Finance Act, those school districts with greater than average increases in assessed value would have received less state aid. The local property tax burden in those districts would have increased to fill the gap. The General Assembly, in an effort to moderate this tax burden shift, created a $64 million dollar increase in state aid for those school districts, thereby maintaining the relative property tax burden in those districts. The 64 million dollars will be distributed over a two-year period. Those school districts with greater than average increases in assessed value received the same revenues, thereby, moderating increases to property tax bills.

In spite of a 73 percent increase in assessed value, total property tax receipts increased only 5.6 percent on a statewide basis. The percentage increase is the smallest since 1979, and indicates a concerted effort on the part of many local governments to keep increases to a minimum. The average statewide mill levy dropped 39 percent, from 101.12 in 1987 to 61.61 in 1988.

The 1987 taxpayer appeals period was the most active on record. Table 3 is a statistical summary of a survey of 55 reporting county assessors conducted March, 1988 concerning the 1987 taxpayer appeals period.

STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION

Membership

The State Board of Equalization (state board) consists of the Governor or his designee, the President of the Senate or his designee, and two members appointed by the governor with consent of the Senate. Each appointed member must be a qualified appraiser, a former assessor, or a person who has knowledge and experience in property taxation. In 1987, board members included Donald C. Eberle, Chairman and appointee of Governor Roy Romer; Lyle C. Kyle, Vice-Chairman and designee of Senate President Ted L. Strickland; Carl B. Bledsoe, Speaker of the House of Representatives; Kenneth L. Salazar, designee of Governor Roy Romer; and Larry Kallenberger, appointee of Governor Roy Romer.

Duties and Responsibilities

The state board has various duties concerning the administration of property tax laws and equalization of value of classes and subclasses of taxable property. Duties of the state board are found primarily in Article X, Sections 2 and 15 of the Colorado Constitution and in Title 39, Article 9, Colorado Revised Statutes.

Among its duties, the state board reviews the findings and conclusions of the annual study and orders reappraisals in counties found not in compliance. The annual study was initiated by a 1982 amendment to the constitution, and is conducted by the Director of Research of Legislative Council pursuant to 39-1-104(16), C.R.S. The study and the resulting orders of reappraisal are the primary means of achieving statewide equalization. The state board also reviews county Abstracts of Assessments, decisions of county boards of equalization, and the recommendations of the Property Tax Administrator.

1987 Enforcement Actions

On October 5, 1987, the state board met in the Old Supreme Court Chambers, State Capital, to review the findings and conclusions of W.H. Hoover & Associates, auditing contractor for Legislative Council. After considering all of the evidence and testimony, the state board concluded that twenty-three counties were not in compliance with Colorado assessment law. Each county assessor subsequently received orders to reappraise the following classes and subclasses of property:

County	Property Classes Ordered
Archuleta:	Residential and Commercial/ Industrial
Baca	Commercial/Industrial
Bent	Agricultural outbuildings
Conejos	Residential, agricultural outbuildings, vacant land, non-producing patented mining
Costilla	Residential
Custer	Commercial/Industrial

The state board further ordered that each reappraisal be conducted utilizing county personnel, under the supervision of the state board through the Property Tax Administrator, and that the county reimburse the state for the cost of supervising the reappraisal. The state board directed each county to present a plan of reappraisal to the state board for consideration by the state board on November 6, 1987.

On November 6, 1987, the state board met to consider each plan of reappraisal. The state board accepted the plans of 21 of the 23 counties. The reappraisal plans for Costilla and Las Animas Counties were considered to be unacceptable. For Costilla County, the state board directed the Division of Property Taxation to conduct a study of the county's plan and report back to the board on November 25, 1987. The plan was subsequently amended and was found to be acceptable by both the county and the state board. For Las Animas County, the state board directed the Division of Property Taxation to develop a "Request for Proposal" for an outside appraisal firm to conduct the reappraisal. The county commissioners had at first refused to sign the plan and the state board could not be assured that the reappraisal would be carried out. On November 25, 1987, an amended plan, containing the signatures of the county commissioners, was submitted and accepted by the state board.

As part of the 1982 amendment to the constitution, each county that was ordered to reappraise is required to reimburse the state for excess state equalization payments made to school districts as well as the cost to supervise the state-ordered reappraisal. Excess state aid to schools occurs when counties are undervalued.

On October 6, 1987, the state board heard testimony concerning the payback of excess state equalization payments and supervision costs stemming from 1986 orders of reappraisal. The 1986 reappraisal orders consisted of the following:

Las Animas	Agricultural Land
Pueblo	Agricultural Land
Garfield	Agricultural Grazing Land

After considering all the evidence and testimony, the state board ordered Las Animas County to repay $86,279.35 (plus interest of 15%) in excess state aid and $20,921.08 in supervision cost. Likewise, Garfield County was ordered to repay $5,053.43 in supervision costs. Garfield County was found to have been overvalued in agricultural grazing land; therefore, no payback for excess state aid to schools was required. In addition, the state board found that Pueblo County was given an order to reappraise without supervision and that the results of the reappraisal indicated that Pueblo was overvalued; therefore, no payback was ordered in Pueblo County.

On October 8, 1987, the state board met to review the 1987 abstract of assessment of Arapahoe County and considered whether to change the valuation of the subclass of residential vacant land, which was changed by the county board of equalization. The county board lowered the valuation of this class by ordering that the assessment rate of 18 percent, rather than the statutory rate of 29 percent, be applied to various parcels of vacant land on which there was no dwelling unit. The Property Tax Administrator advised that the state board had consistently ruled on this issue in Arapahoe County on September 26, 1983, and September 10, 1984. On both occasions, the state board reversed the decision of the Arapahoe County Board of Equalization. Further Denver District Court has upheld the state board's decisions in the cases of Centex Homes and Writer Corporation, et al. After considering all of the testimony and evidence, the state board reversed the Arapahoe County Board of Equalization and ordered the commissioners to reinstate the original value as determined by the assessor.

DIVISION OF PROPERTY TAXATION

Under the general laws of Colorado, the Division of Property Taxation is headed by the Property Tax Administrator. The administrator is appointed by the State Board of Equalization to serve for a five-year term and until a successor is appointed and qualified.

The primary responsibility of the Division of Property Taxation is to administer the implementation of property tax law throughout the sixty-three counties so that valuations are fair, uniform, and defensible, and so that each property class contributes a fair share, no more and no less, of the tax revenue. In other words, the Division's goal is equalization of valuation and proper distribution of property taxes throughout the state.

The Division of Property Taxation is comprised of five sections, which are: Appraisal Standards, Assessment Administration, Central Resources, State Assessed, and Exemptions.

Appraisal Standards staff conduct all appraisal courses and develop appraisal procedures for residential, commercial and industrial properties, agricultural land, natural resources, and recreational properties. They provide workshops in specialized areas of valuation, conduct schools dealing with the cost, market, and income approaches to value, and research, write and publish manuals dealing with appraisal. Consultation and assistance is provided to county staffs with appraisal problems.

Assessment Administration staff conduct all courses dealing with administration of an assessor's office, and research and develop manuals on assessment procedures and legal references. They provide workshops in specialized areas of assessment administration such as certification of values and levies, title conveyance and parcel mapping. The section serves as primary liaison to the sixty-three counties to determine existing and future needs for assistance in any area.

Central Resources coordinates and edits division publications, conducts research projects for the division, processes abatement petitions, publishes the mobile equipment manual, and provides data processing coordination. The section provides administrative services for the division, the State Board of Equalization, and the Statutory Advisory Committee to the Property Tax Administrator. In addition, the section deals with taxpayer complaints and serves as a liaison or coordinator with a variety of agencies with an interest in ad valorem taxation.

State Assessed Properties values all public utilities and rail transportation properties in the state.

Exemptions examines all applications for exemption from property taxation of property claimed to be owned and used solely and exclusively for religious worship, private schools and strictly charitable purposes and makes determinations on these cases. Annual reports of exempt properties are reviewed to determine continuation of exemption.

1987 PROPERTY TAX LEGISLATION

Senate Bill 7 - Property taxes - valuation for assessment - statutory sections inconsistent with constitutional requirements - repeal. Repeals those statutory sections that were enacted prior to the 1982 constitutional amendment to section 3 of article X of the state constitution which conflict with such amendment's requirements on valuation for assessment, either in determination of actual value or assessment rates.

Senate Bill 8 - Property taxes - valuation of oil and gas leaseholds and lands. Provides that the valuation for assessment of oil and gas leaseholds and lands for property tax purposes shall be determined solely by the current value of the oil or gas produced rather than by relation back to a base year value.

Senate Bill 40 - Property taxes - exemption - charitable fraternal and veteran organizations. Exempts from property taxation property owned by charitable fraternal organizations or veteran organizations when the net income received from such property has been irrevocably dedicated to charitable purposes.

Senate Bill 88 - Property taxes - valuation for assessment - real property. The 1987 and 1988 property tax years require county assessors to revalue any real property to reflect changes in value due to the ending of the economic life of an improvement with only salvage value remaining. Provides that, for the 1987 and 1988 property tax years, producing coal mines and other lands producing nonmetallic minerals shall be valued for assessment without relating the actual value of such property back to a specified year's level of value pursuant to article 1 of title 39.

For property tax years 1989 and thereafter, modifies the time period to be utilized by assessors to determine the level of value of taxable property. Requires annual assessments of taxable property to be conducted beginning in 1991. Specifies that the general assembly shall consider making an appropriation during the 1988 regular session to reimburse counties for actual and reasonable costs incurred in administering annual assessments and, in addition, shall consider alternative methods of funding the costs of annual assessments. Requires that such findings be reported to the general assembly by March 15, 1988. Specifies that the SBOE shall administer the distribution of such monies.

Specifies that the amount of payments into escrow accounts for the payment of ad valorem taxes shall be increased only upon official notification of an increase in the amount of taxes levied, and shall not be increased solely upon notification of an increase in the valuation for assessment.

Senate Bill 198 - Property taxes - payment of taxes on fractional interests in lands - tax liability - moneys deposited in escrow - exception - distribution of moneys. Eliminates the ad valorem tax liability of an owner of a fractional interest in wells or fields operated as units for the production of oil, gas, or other hydrocarbons to the extent such tax has been withheld from royalty or working interest payments of the owner by the unit operator or the first purchaser but has not been remitted to the treasurer. Eliminates the ad valorem tax liability of the unit operator of such unit to the extent such tax has been withheld from oil and gas sale proceeds of the unit operator by the first purchaser but has not been remitted to the treasurer.

Requires the unit operator to place in escrow an amount equal to the tax collected from the owners of fractional interest in the unit by the unit operator plus the proportional share of tax levied on the fractional interest in the unit owned by the unit operator. Requires the money to be deposited within 30 days from the date the unit operator receives payment for the sale of any oil or gas from such lease. Authorizes the treasurer to waive such escrow requirement if the unit operator provides an adequate financial statement or bond.

Upon completion of all production of oil and gas from the unit and after all wells in the unit are plugged and abandoned, specifies that all moneys remaining in the escrow account after full payment of all ad valorem tax due on the unit be distributed to the owners of the fractional interests in the unit based upon each owner's proportional interest in the unit. Requires that interest accruing to the escrow account be credited to the account and distributed with other moneys in the account when production from the unit is completed and all wells are plugged.

Makes the unit operator and first purchaser liable for the ad valorem tax of the owners of fractional interests to the extent the unit operator or the first purchaser has withheld such tax from royalty and working interest payments but has failed to remit such tax collected. Authorizes the treasurer to give notice to the first purchaser to withhold sale proceeds to the unit operator and to remit such proceeds to the treasurer until the delinquent tax and penalties are paid when the unit operator has failed to remit such tax collected from the owners of fractional interests or when the unit operator has failed to remit the proportional share of tax levied on the fractional interest in the unit owned by the unit operator.

Makes the first purchaser liable for the amount of delinquent tax if he fails to collect the tax after receiving notice from the treasurer or if he collects the tax but fails to transfer the tax to the unit operator or the treasurer.

House Bill 1002 - Property taxes - valuation of producing mines. Provides that the valuation for assessment of producing mines for property tax purposes shall be based on the gross proceeds or net proceeds for the preceding calendar year rather than by relation back to a base year value.

House Bill 1003 - Property taxes - valuation of residential real property for assessment. Declares that residential real property shall be valued at 21% of its actual value; except that, pursuant to the provisions of section 3 of article X of the Colorado constitution, for the property tax years commencing on and after January 1, 1987, but prior to January 1, 1989, residential real property shall be valued at 18% of its actual value in order to maintain the percentage of aggregate statewide valuation for assessment which was attributable to residential real property for the property tax year commencing January 1, 1987.

House Bill 1004 - Valuation for assessment - conforming statutes to existing constitutional provisions. Changes the statutory percentage of actual value to 29% which is the same as the percentage mandated by the constitutional amendment.

H.B. 1006 - Property taxes - personal property - failure to fully and completely disclose - penalties - determination of actual value - maximum value. After August 1, 1987, allows the assessor, upon discovery that any person has failed to make a full and complete disclosure of his personal property for assessment purposes, after being given personal property tax schedules, to value such person's personal property based on the best available information and to impose a penalty upon such person in an amount up to 25% of the valuation for assessment determined for the omitted property. Exempts a person from imposition of said penalty if he fully and completely discloses such property on the first personal property schedule he is issued after August 1, 1987. Specifies that any person subject to a penalty shall have the right to pursue the available statutory taxpayer remedies. Removes language regarding filings which constitute a failure to fully and completely disclose personal property from the statute which addresses those persons who fail to file a personal property tax schedule.

Requires the assessing officer to consider the value of personal property which is derived from the cost approach to the appraisal to be the maximum value of the property, if the owner has timely filed his declaration which contains all relevant information pertaining to the valuation of such property and which also contains a full disclosure of all costs incurred in the acquisition and installation of all personal property owned or in the possession of the taxpayer. Allows denial of the use of the cost approach only if such requirements are not met. Holds the assessing officer liable for costs incurred by a taxpayer for protesting an assessment where the use of the cost approach was wrongly denied by the assessing officer. Provides that nothing shall preclude an assessing officer from using other authorized methods of appraising personal property if it would result in a lower value and is based on independent information obtained by the assessing officer.

House Bill 1010 - Property taxes - calendar for certification of levies - uniform dates. Uniformly applies November 20 as the date by which mill levies shall be certified to the county commissioners by local governments, special districts, and school districts, and December 1 as the date the county commissioners shall levy against the valuation for assessment. Extends the November 20 deadline to December 15 and continues to allow a delay in the levy against valuation for assessment when an election for an increased property tax levy is held. Allows adjustments in the tax levies to reflect changes in the valuation for assessment only when such changes occur after the valuation for assessment but prior to the delivery of the tax warrant.

House Bill 1013 - Property taxes - access to documents for annual valuation for assessment study. Authorizes the contractor and his employees performing the annual valuation for assessment study to have access to documents in the custody of an assessor or the property tax administrator. Allows such contractor and his employees to have the same access to confidential documents that assessors, the property tax administrator, and other authorized persons have and allows persons with taxable personal property listed in such confidential documents to have the same access to such documents.

House Bill 1107 - Property taxes - schedules of property - late filing penalties. Authorizes the property tax administrator to impose a late filing penalty on public utilities and rail transportation companies which fail to return a statement of property by April 15 of each year. Requires the imposition of a fine of $100 for each calendar day the statement of property is delinquent with the total penalty imposed not to exceed $3,000. Credits all late filing penalties to the general fund. If the statement of property is not filed by the public utility by May 15, provides that, in addition to imposing a late filing penalty, the administrator shall determine the actual value of the property on the basis of the best information available.

Authorizes the property tax administrator to determine the actual value of the property of a public utility on the basis of the best information available when a public utility fails to file a complete statement of property, fails to include property of the public utility in a statement of property, or includes false, erroneous, or misleading information concerning property of the public utility in a statement of property.

House Bill 1212 - Property tax administrator - procedures for discontinuing exemptions from property tax - hearings - appropriation. Effective January 1, 1988, requires the property tax administrator, in instances where an exemption for a property or use may be discontinued, to provide the affected owner or user with written notice of such pending action and a public hearing on the matter. Directs the administrator to provide the property owner and any user of the property 60 days within which to either comply and retain the property tax exemption or have the property disqualified from such tax exemption.

Effective July 1, 1987, increases the fee for filing an application claiming initial exemption of real and personal property from general taxation from $25 to $50. Also effective July 1, 1987, increases the fee for filing an annual report for exempt property with the property tax administrator from $5 to $25 and increases the fee from $25 to $50 for reports filed after April 15 but prior to July 1.

Appropriates $148,989 and 4.0 FILE from the general fund to the department of local affairs for the implementation of the act.

House Bill 1220 - Property taxes - classification of agricultural equipment - mechanical equipment for conveyance and storage of animal products. Amends the definition of "agricultural equipment used on the farm or ranch in the production of agricultural products" to include, within the exemption from property tax, mechanical systems used for conveyance and storage of raw or unprocessed animal products. Clarifies that the definition encompasses such mechanical systems regardless of their affixation to real property.

House Bill 1289 - Property taxes - taxable personal property - removal from state before next assessment date - waiver of revaluation. Makes the failure to apply to the assessor for revaluation of taxable personal property before removing it from the state a waiver of revaluation of that property, and under those circumstances a prorated assessment is not required by the assessor.

House Bill 1315 - Property taxes - incorrect levies - elimination of review by property tax administrator. Eliminates review by the property tax administrator of property tax abatements or refunds in amounts of $300 or less which the board of county commissioners has found to be erroneous or illegal.

(1) Averages will not add to the Total Average County Levy because denominators (Assessed Valuation) are not common to all.

(2) Municipal Revenues are divided by the sum of Municipal Assessed Valuation.

(3) Special District Revenues are divided by the sum of all Special District Assessed Valuation.

* These figures include tax increment valuation, and all tax revenues attributable to the increment are allocated to the increment financing authority only.
